Followers of the LPGA Championship will recognize the pristine greens at Bulle Rock, where residents can play the same course as the pros. Residents here enjoy a spectacular view of the Susquehanna River meandering to the Chesapeake Bay and access to facilities including indoor and outdoor pools, a day spa, a state-of-the-art business center, and a private yacht club.

MAKING THE (UP) GRADE

In a gated community, developers offer a laundry list of amenities that homeowners can choose from that add value, convenience and luxury to their home.

"Our buyers are looking for their home to be a comfort zone, a haven from daily pressure and stress," says Brenda Desjardins, a spokeswoman for The Residences at Bulle Rock, a resort-style community built around the championship Bulle Rock golf course in Havre de Grace, Maryland. "With that in mind, they want as many amenities as possible in their home to make their life easier and allow them to entertain or be entertained." Here are a few upgrades you might be able to make when buying your home:

- INTEGRATED TV in bathroom mirror
- OUTDOOR COURTYARDS with pond, TVs, fireplaces and sound systems
- KITCHENS with built in pasta steamers and wine storage
